

His background makes Costoff a fighter for the poor

When Christ Costoff announced his intention to retire as chairman of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee, it marked the end of another chapter of his Democratic involvement.

Costoff says that he "never cared much for titles anyway," and will continue to be active in the Democratic party, helping Mac Warfield (the new Democratic Committee chairman) "all that he can."

COSTOFF, WHO has been a precinct committeeman since 1942, couldn't help but become involved in politics. One might say it is in his blood, since, according to Costoff, most of his relatives in Bulgaria were politicians.

"My uncle was a city clerk and my great-uncle was the mayor of a town," he said. Other relatives held positions such as judges and treasurers.

"I enjoy politics because I like helping other people who are in need," he said.

PERHAPS COSTOFF'S reasoning for helping others stems back to his early childhood, when his life was anything but easy.

He was born in Kereka, Bulgaria, during the Balkan Wars. He learned to take care of his family at an early age, since his father was forced to flee the country.

According to Costoff, his mother saved every penny she could so they could join his father in America. But she was unable to accomplish saving the ticket fare, because it took 180 leva to equal one American dollar.

COSTOFF WAS NOT reunited with his father until he was 14, when his father was able to send money to them. Costoff says it was about that time that he got his first pair of shoes, since he needed them to have his passport picture taken.

After his family became settled, his parents had a daughter. Costoff entered school, but dropped out after he was put in a class with first graders. Costoff said he was placed lower than his ability because he could not read or speak English.

When Costoff was 18, his father died, and he had sole responsibility of supporting his sister and mother. His only inheritance from his father was a Studebaker touring car.

COSTOFF THEORIZES that his bout with hunger and poverty may also have been the reason he began to support Democrats. "The Democratic party is for the poor people. It tries to get jobs for the needy," he said.

Since he gained his citizenship in 1942, Costoff has held a series of county, township and city offices. During the past 42 years, he has never been defeated in an election.

Asked about his secret for success, he replied that the answer lies in contact with the people. "The best way to get out the message is to go door to door talking to people most of the day, and spending the rest of your time on the phone," he said.

COSTOFF, WHO retired in 1981 from his job with the former Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon, has adopted several hobbies over the years, which include meeting Democratic presidents.

"I've met every Democratic president in office since I became involved in politics," he said. His hobby is apparent upon entering his home—the walls being lined with pictures of presidents he has met, along with other political friends.

Costoff said his most memorable experience as a Democrat came when he led a parade in 1960 for former President John F. Kennedy. "He (Kennedy) was the greatest Democrat I've ever known," he said. "We all cried when he died."

HE ALSO SAID he greatly admired Harry Truman, who happened to be the first president Costoff met in person.

Costoff says he sees a bright future ahead for the Democratic party, although he does not see any major changes coming in the future. "I think the party will be run the same way it has in the past and I will continue my work for the people."

Parents-too-soon lack advice from their own parents

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

"Our babies are having babies because we are not teaching them the responsibility that goes with sex," Barbara Madison, a licensed practical nurse and a counselor and social worker with the Madison County Urban League, warned in a talk to the Granite City Optimist Club Thursday afternoon.

"Teenage pregnancy is running rampant. We, as adults, have to face our responsibility. If we don't teach sexual responsibility, we will watch our society consumed because we will have raised a generation that cannot support themselves or anyone else," Mrs. Madison warned.

MANY TEENAGE parents end their educations when the child arrives and 65 percent of the girls never return to finish high school, she warned. This makes it difficult to find work, so many are forced to live on $236 a month in Public Aid.

Compounding the problem is that so-called "welfare mothers" frequently see their children have children at a young age. Mrs. Madison says she works with many families where a girl has a baby at age 15, becomes a grandmother at age 30 and a great-grandmother by age 45. All three generations live solely on Public Aid. "We support all these people on welfare, and the cost is staggering," she warned.

She said a teenage pregnancy has a negative effect, not only on the girl and the boy, but on their families and friends. "When a girl is pregnant, the whole family suffers," she contended.

"At the present rate, by 1995, it will cost society an estimated $47.5 billion a year in welfare to take care of the girls and the babies," she said.

THE PROBLEM is not just one somewhere else in the state, it exists right here, she said. Of 25,566 live births to girls under age 20 in the state in 1982, 532 were in Madison County. Of those, 27 were to teenage girls, from Madison, 11 were to Venice girls and 96 were to Granite City teenage girls, including one under the age of 15. And, she stressed, those were only the live births in the state, not counting those who left the state to have their babies or those who had abortions.

The best available figures indicate that in 1980, there were 1.3 to 1.5 million teen pregnancies in the U.S. Of these, 600,000 had live births. The remainder are "not accounted for" in government statistics, which could be the result of abortions, miscarriages or failure to properly register the births. There are no figures available on the percentage of teenage pregnancies ended in abortion, she said. "Girls are dying by the thousands from pregnancies, abortions and pregnancy-related causes," she added.

"It's a big, big problem," she said, adding that much of the problem could be avoided if people would just talk straight with children about sex.

"PARENTS SAY let the schools teach them. The schools say, 'Don't discuss sex. We don't want the parents to get upset.' Somebody had better talk to somebody. We need to educate these children."

"We need to stop letting them see everything that happens on TV, where people are popping in and out of bed like popcorn, and not teach them some responsibility. Their rock music, we need to listen to the words of these songs. If we say OK, if we do not object, we condone it."

"We need to take time to teach the children, along with reading and writing, that in sex there is a responsibility. There is disease, infections and pregnancies," Mrs. Madison warned.

"WE HAVE all been their age. They have never been ours. We can teach them. We teach the children the difference between what is food and what is garbage. We would be surprised how smart our kids are when we give them the truth. When these kids ask you these questions (Continued on Page 5)

Never lied after pact—Brimberry

By PATHAY LUTZ
for the Press-Record

In an emotional statement to jurors Friday, Thomas Brimberry said he and his wife, Janice, had committed "terrible acts" but never lied to government agents, since signing a plea agreement on Nov. 2, 1981, two days before agents seized records and permanently closed the doors at Stix and Co.

A misty-eyed Brimberry spoke slowly, facing the jury as he said, "Myself and my wife have committed a lot of terrible acts for many years. But when the plea bargain was reached with my wife and I, I would have been an utter fool to take the chance of putting my wife in jail and putting myself at further risk on such frivolous charges as the government has against me today."

He testified that after signing the plea agreement, he detailed a $16 million embezzlement scheme, named cohorts in the fraud, turned "truckloads of records" over to federal agents, turned his assets over to the Stix trustee, and spent "many, many, many hours" testifying to authorities during interviews and grand jury investigations, outlining specifics of his illegal activities during 1975 through 1981.

Defense Attorney David Lubell listed each count of the 10-count indictment, asking Brimberry if he wished to make changes in any of his statements, and Brimberry said, "I stand by my earlier testimony."

Brimberry told jurors that he kept federal authorities informed of his whereabouts and activities during daily telephone contacts, and that he made additions or corrections to his statement as he remembered information.

One such correction came after Brimberry had told authorities in his sworn statement Nov. 12, 1981, that he had no brokerage accounts other than 10 fictitious accounts at Stix. The stock brokerage went out of

Health testing here

The main entrance of St. Elizabeth Medical Center can be the door toward a healthy life for many visitors Thursday, when it will lead to Health Fair '84.

Free health screenings, exhibits by local health and medical organizations and general tips on how to live a healthy life will be offered.

The local event is part of a two-day project being sponsored by KSDK-Channel 5, the American Red Cross and the General American Life Insurance Co. in cooperation with the National Health Screening Council for Volunteer Organizations.

SEM'S HEALTH FAIR will be open to the public from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Thursday. No admission will be charged and most tests will be free.

Health Fair organizers are hoping for a much larger turnout this year than last. They've given special attention to planning traffic patterns so that people will be able to move quickly through the various booths and stations," a spokesman said.

"Health Fair is a great opportunity for people to check on their health status and learn how to prevent disease. And at these prices, who can afford to pass this up?"

FREE TESTS will be administered for blood pressure, height and weight, vision disorders, keenness of sight, glaucoma, diabetes, colon cancer, anemia and pulmonary function.

Blood chemistry testing will cost $8. Those planning to take this test should not eat for eight hours before the test is administered. A blood chemistry test with a cardiac profile will cost $14. A 12-hour fast is required before that test.

Venice establishes eligibility list for police; 2 officers are leaving squad

Fourteen persons took the Venice police examination for the position of probationary patrolman and five passed the test and have been placed on an eligibility list, the Venice City Council was advised by Mayor Tyrone Echols at Tuesday night's council meeting.

The examination was conducted

March 30 in preparation of replacing officers who recently have left the force.

TWENTY-TWO prospective candidates obtained applications from the department. However, three persons failed to return their application and five others failed to show up for the test, according to a letter from the Venice Board of Police Commissioners.

The letter was read by Mayor Echols, who did not disclose the names of the successful candidates.

At the same meeting, a letter of resignation was accepted from Venice Patrolman Ronald Brawley, who has accepted a position as adult probation officer with the Madison County Probation and Court Services.

BRAWLEY has been a Venice police officer for the past 4½ years. The effective date of his resignation is April 16.

A second officer is expected to submit his resignation at the council's next meeting, it was learned.

McKinley Bridge Manager Tom Fields reported a total of 427,503 vehicles utilized the Venice-owned McKinley Bridge during March. The figures averaged out to 13,790 vehicles each day and shows a daily increase of 2,124 above March 1983.

MAYOR ECHOLS reported meeting again with representatives of South-Western Cable TV, Inc., and receiving a new base figure of $8 for Venice subscribers.

In a presentation to the council last month, a representative said the company would install cable service in the community at a base rate of $9. An objection was raised by some aldermen when it was learned that Granite City subscribers pay only an $8 basic charge.

A franchise agreement is being prepared by Walter F. Payne, director of acquisitions for First Carolina Communications, the new parent company of South-Western Cable TV, Mayor Echols advised.

SOUTH-WESTERN Cable's proposal will make 35 channels available to the Venice subscribers, the mayor said.

The franchise agreement is expected to be received in time for the council's next session, when the proposal will be further explored.

Surveillance reducing crimes on buses here

The Bi-State Development Agency's undercover police surveillance program continues to reduce crime on buses, according to figures released by the agency.

"The number of arrests made in 1983 were at an all time low of 1,277, indicating that the program has been very successful in creating a safer environment for bus passengers," said Frank Kavanaugh, Bi-State's manager of security. Officers made 795 arrests in the city of St. Louis; 354 arrests in St. Louis County and 129 arrests in St. Clair County during 1983. Most of those arrested were charged with smoking, drinking or disturbing the peace, Kavanaugh said.

Bi-State uses off-duty police officers and sheriff's deputies in plainclothes undercover teams on buses. The officers board the buses at random times and locations within their jurisdictions and have the authority to issue summonses, make arrests. The program, which has been in effect in portions of Bi-State's service area since 1979, was the first of its kind in the nation. It has been copied by a number of other transit systems across the country, including those in Atlanta, Los Angeles, Houston, Newark, N.J., and Miami.

Two thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven arrests were made in 1980, the first full year during which comparable figures are available; 2,176 arrests were made in 1981 and 1,407 arrests were made in 1982.

The program also was recently expanded to include all operations in Madison County. Kavanaugh said that undercover teams are now riding Bi-State buses throughout the county and will take appropriate action when encountering violations of the law.

In 1980, St. Louis City, St. Louis County and East St. Louis passed ordinances specifically regulating the conduct of passengers on buses. The ordinances made it illegal to smoke, eat, drink, play a radio or tape player (without using an earphone), board with animals or dangerous materials, litter or refuse to pay the established fare. Similar legislation is being pursued in Madison and St. Clair Counties, where officers presently rely on established nuisance laws to control passenger conduct.

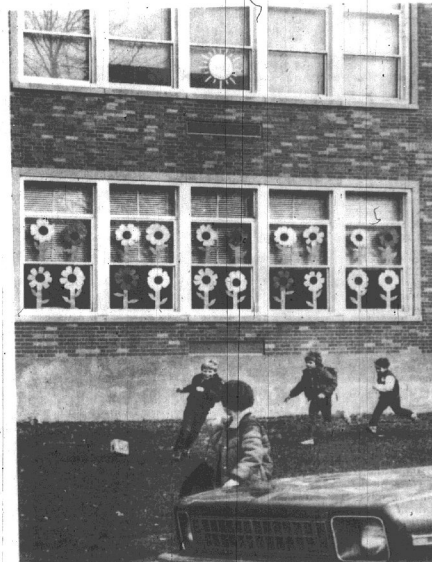

"If you haven't been on a Bi-State bus in a while I think you will be pleasantly surprised," Kavanaugh said. "The buses are a lot cleaner, quieter, and safer than they used to be. But we're not finished yet. I won't be satisfied until arrests drop to zero."

BURGLAR TAKES WAR RELIC

Bond use in state soaring

State debt resulting from issuance of revenue bonds totaled $4.331 billion at the end of fiscal 1983, more than triple the amount of ten years ago, Comptroller Roland W. Burris reported last week.

The $4.331 billion represents principal only and does not include interest debt, Burris noted. He said the growth in revenue bonds was spurred by "the few limitations and the tax-exempt status."

Federal legislation has been passed and more is being considered in an attempt to limit and restrict revenue bonds, Burris pointed out. Revenue bonds issued by the state and various state entities are the center of study in his latest monthly fiscal report.

The Illinois Constitution provides the authority for bonds issued by the state and by public agencies created by the state. Two types of bonds have been issued.

General obligation bonds are secured by the full faith and credit of the state and are repaid through tax revenues. They are authorized by the legislature or through referendum and are used for specific purposes such as anti-pollution, capital development, transportation and higher education.

Revenue bonds are not secured by the faith and credit of the state and are repaid through the pledge of income generated from the beneficiaries of specific bond issues.

With fewer restrictions, compounded by exemption from federal taxation, revenue bonds increased dramatically over the past decade, Burris said.

Revenue bond debt principal at the end of fiscal 1983, was up $3.046 billion or almost 3.4 times the outstanding debt of $1.243 billion in fiscal 1974.

The outstanding debt represents the net of defeased issues. Bonds are defeased when monies in an escrow fund and the interest earned are sufficient to pay all future debt service payments.

Revenue bonds are divided into three categories. The first category is considered indirect debt of the state because interest is paid from state appropriations.

The second category is considered a moral or contingent obligation of the state and carries an implicit but non-binding state obligation. The final category is for revenue bonds without any commitment by the state.

Indirect debt of the state is the smallest revenue bond category. Its use has steadily declined - from $476 million in 1974 to $110 million in fiscal 1983.

These bonds were issued by the Illinois Armory Board, Illinois Building Authority, Springfield Airport Authority and various civic auditorium authorities for construction and improvement of facilities.

Outstanding principal debt with moral or contingent obligation consists of bonds issued for higher education and, most recently, the Illinois Housing Development Authority. Principal debt totaled $1.216 billion in 1983, an increase of $844 million over the decade. The housing Development Authority was created to increase production of low- and moderate-income by providing mortgage loans and to finance construction and rehabilitation of housing for subsidized rentals.

Bonds issued by state universities provided for construction of student housing and other revenue-producing facilities at those institutions. The State Scholarship Commission issued revenue bonds for purchase of defaulted student loans from lenders.

The largest category of revenue bond debt consists of bonds issued without any commitment by the state, totaling $3.065 billion at the end of fiscal 1983, up $2.568 billion or 6.9 times the outstanding debt of $437 million in 1974.

The state has created authorities to provide private entities with a low-cost source of capital financing for construction of facilities deemed to be in the public interest.

Seven authorities have provided loans or assistance for a wide range of services, from pollution control, soil conservation and toll highway construction to hospital financing and industrial, commercial and manufacturing development.

Various local authorities and governments also issue revenue bonds. These local units, excluding the City of Chicago, Cook County, the Metropolitan Sanitary District and school districts, had revenue bonds outstanding of $1.667 billion in fiscal 1981.

Revenue bonds at the local level have increased dramatically in recent years because of the tax-exempt status and favorable interest rates. The growth pattern is not limited to Illinois, but is a national occurrence.

"While tax-exempt revenue bonds benefit many, the impact on the federal Treasury is quite noticeable, with an average annual loss of $14 billion," Burris said.

"As a result, the federal government has planned or enacted limits on their use."

"Naturally, state and local governments are opposed to this, since tax-exempt revenue bonds require no real government obligation and are the only alternative to using tax sources as a method of financing programs."

ALLEGED FIGHT ENDS IN ASSAULT CHARGE

Following an argument and disturbance last week, Donald R. Garris, 29, of Granite City, was charged with assault. He was released after posting a $52 cash bond.

Gary Culp, 4407 Kirkpatrick Homes, told police Garris came to the home of his sister, Judy Garris, 4406 Kirkpatrick Homes, and argument ensued, with a fight starting between Garris and Culp when the latter tried to intervene. Culp signed a complaint.

The day before, Garris was arrested at an apartment in the 3400 block of Kirkpatrick Homes on an active warrant alleging criminal damage to property and pleaded innocent to that charge. He was released from custody on his own recognizance.

Free trees for Arbor members

The National Arbor Day Foundation is giving 10 free Colorado Blue Spruce trees to people who become foundation members during April.

The free trees are part of the foundation's effort to promote tree planting throughout America. Colorado Blue Spruce, evergreens with compact conical shape and silver blue-green color, were selected because of their many uses in home landscaping. Foundation director John Rosenow said the free trees can be used as ornamentals, a privacy screen or windbreak, or as living Christmas trees. The 6 to 12-inch trees will be shipped postage-paid with enclosed planting instructions in April or May.

The National Arbor Day Foundation, a non-profit organization, is working to improve the quality of life throughout the country by encouraging tree planting and conservation. The foundation will give the 10 free trees to members contributing $10 during April.

To become a member of the foundation and to receive the free trees, a $10 membership contribution may be sent to "Ten Blue Spruces," National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Ave., Nebraska City, Neb. 68410, by April 30.

Wise board decisions on sales

The Granite City Board of Education deserves commendation for its progress in disposing of unneeded school buildings while retaining those that may be of further use to the school district in future years.

No matter how good their condition, "idle structures tend to deteriorate with the passage of time. And they are an added worry and cost, since minimum heat must be provided throughout the winter.

Johnson School, a relatively new building, was designed with "wide open spaces" inside to accommodate team teaching. This large, air-conditioned school will make a truly outstanding club facility for the Knights of Columbus.

The KC Council's $587,000 payment can be put to good use by the district in renovating remaining schools or in meeting other financial needs.

By acquiring the Emerson School property, the Nestle Company will be able to expand its instant tea plant and increase its staff.

Washington School will provide attractive apartment facilities.

Whether the Nameoki and Lake schools will be leased to a Christian school and a special education center, respectively, has not been decided. An earlier lease of Granite City High School North, now the Granite City Center of Belleville Area College, provides a further "hedge" in the event boom times return and the 5-to-18-year-old population soars.

Infrastructure now a key word

The way the "cookie has crumbled" for communities and their city governments—hampered by dwindling revenue from virtually all sources—is that their aging "infrastructure" also are crumbling.

Infrastructure is a big word, whose definition is "basic facilities on which a city depends." It is becoming a big problem due to underfunding of various upkeep, repair and refurbishing programs.

The state took note of the situation Friday. In a special message to legislators, the governor proposed a "Local Government Infrastructure Assistance Act."

Communities are finding it increasingly difficult to properly maintain vital public works: streets, sewers, water lines and bridges. Edwardsville, for example, lacked an adequate water supply this weekend and today.

Gov. Thompson wants action now, saying, "The longer we delay, the worse and more overwhelming conditions will become." The Department of Commerce and Community Affairs would work with the Illinois Development Finance Authority to:

—Package and pool local bond issues and sell IDFA bonds in national capital markets; local participation would be voluntary.

—Enhance IDFA bonds' credit worthiness by establishing a small reserve fund, buying private insurance for issues, and/or pledging local resources.

—Provide technical help to local governments through DCCA in debt management, bond issuance, capital facility planning and infrastructure maintenance.

—Report every two years to the governor and General Assembly on the condition of infrastructure throughout the state.

The plan could be valuable, and we urge active consideration by lawmakers. Individually, local-level bond issues cannot gain as much access to prospective buyers. When pooled, they can obtain longer loan periods, lower borrowing costs and more attention from bidders.

Closing the generation gap

The election year has already produced a surfeit of polls, but for those who take the comfort wherever they can find it, a recent report from the National Association of Secondary School Principals may be of interest.

The association's annual poll of 1,000 youngsters 13 to 18 years old reveals that "the generation gap is now only a headline fracture," in the words of one principal.

Youngsters were found to be more satisfied with their lives, more interested in their families and more respectful of parents and other adults.

And despite an increasing fear of nuclear war, they are more optimistic about their personal and economic futures. Unlike their 1960s counterparts, they are not turned off by the "establishment." In fact, they are looking forward to being part of it.

One teenager said, "I guess I want it all — a career, love, marriage and children."

Now that kind of statement may turn out alienated types whose stock in trade is the mobilized anger of upheaval, but it's sweet music to those who yearn for a return to the traditional staples of a healthy society: home, family and work.

At long last, the pendulum may be swinging in the right direction.

Outside judges sought to void Jensen appointment

By JUDY TAPLAN

An "outside" judge is being sought to rule on Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber's request to void Keith Jensen's appointment as a special prosecutor in a grand jury probe of assessment practices.

Madison County Chief Judge A.A. Mateosian says he asked the state Supreme Court last week to appoint the outside judge.

MATEOSIAN SAID he did so because of the possibility that some Madison County judges might be called as witnesses when Weber's motion was heard.

The chief judge said he believed the Supreme Court would appoint the outside judge in the next three or four days. He said he did not expect a hearing on Weber's motions to occur.

In the pleadings filed last week, Weber also asked that all documents involved in the investigation of assessment practices be impounded and returned to him, that a subpoena served on Weber himself for grand jury testimony be quashed, and that Jensen be restrained from placing a "gag order" on Weber to keep him from commenting on the investigation.

IN THE PLEADINGS, Weber maintains that the court's appointment of Jensen as a special prosecutor usurps Weber's own legal powers and is in violation of the state constitution's doctrine of separation of judicial and executive powers.

Jensen, who was an assistant state's attorney in Weber's office until he resigned March 27, was appointed the special prosecutor March 28 by Circuit Judge Philip Rarik, who barred Weber from further participation.

On March 15, the grand jury had asked that Weber be barred from the investigation "to keep politics from playing any role."

ON MARCH 28, Circuit Judge P.J.

O'Neill, speaking for the grand jury, filed a petition asking for appointment of a special prosecutor.

"None of us," O'Neill said, "had tried to frustrate the grand jury's March 15 directive and was trying to use the grand jury 'to further his own personal and political ends.'"

The targets of the Weber-instituted grand jury probe are believed to be Board of Review members and Supervisor of Assessments James Barton.

WEBER HAS SAID he began an investigation of assessment practices last August, turning the probe over to Jensen in December. In February, just after a Board of Review hearing on lowering assessments for car dealers in the county, Weber announced that the grand jury would look into the assessment practices.

Weber's documents mention the presence of another agency in the assessment probe. Although the state's attorney has declined to name that agency, sources say it is the FBI.

FBI agents have interviewed persons who contributed to a defense fund for Barton, indicted two years ago on a bribery charge.

AN ASSOCIATE judge had dismissed the case against Barton, saying Weber had indulged in prosecutorial misconduct.

(The Fifth District Appellate Court in Mount Vernon recently overturned the associate judge's decision, but rebuked Weber for his conduct.)

In the documents filed last week, Weber said his announcement of the grand jury probe in February was a "smoke-screen" technique in cooperation with the unnamed governmental agency in the investigation.

ON MARCH 27, the day before his appointment as the special prosecutor in the probe, the grand jury signed an affidavit stating that Weber had asked him to return indictments in the case before the March 20 election so that Weber, up for re-election, could benefit politically.

Weber said Weber later changed his mind because the grand jury looked too political. Instead, Weber asked him to return indictments before March 28, regardless of what any other investigative agency had to say.

A special grand jury studying charges against Weber himself was to convene on March 28.

IN THE pleadings filed Monday by Weber, he did not deny that he had discussed the political implications of grand jury indictments with Jensen. But he said Jensen's affidavit "constitutes known distortion of facts."

Weber's pleadings said a grand jury session led by Jensen last Friday was unlawful because:

— Jensen had not posted the required bond;

— Jensen had no opportunity to answer or respond;

— A state's attorney cannot be disqualified from pursuit of his duties unless he is an actual party to a case, is involved as a private individual or has monetary interests;

Weber had informed Judge O'Neill that he (Weber) had already cancelled the grand jury and would instead use an information as the procedure for bringing charges.

WEBER'S documents also said the usurpation of his powers by Jensen and the circuit court left him without a grand jury to conduct the regular duties of his office.

At the county GOP party convention last week, Weber said Madison County is in the middle of an ancient constitutional crisis.

The issue, he said, is whether the judiciary can tell the executive branch whether it can investigate political corruption in the county.

With the inclusion of such phrases as "Where's the beef" and "Rainbow coalition" into the general election process, persons shopping at Crossroads Plaza Sunday were asked if they thought such phrases took away from the seriousness of the campaign. Their reactions follow:

Sue Miller, Granite City

"I don't think it takes away from the election process. In fact, I think it makes it more interesting. It adds a little more humor to an otherwise serious campaign. No, I don't have any qualms about such slogans."

John Schwentker, Granite City

"No, I don't think so. Basically, what those slogans are trying to do is sell them (the candidates) just as it might a commercial item. They're trying to sell themselves, as candidates. It's just another gimmick and no it doesn't bother me one way or the other."

Joe Garcia, Madison

"I think it (the slogans) are kind of a gimmick. With this being an election year I think the candidates are attempting to capture people's attention anyway possible. By using such phrases, the media picks up on it and so does the public. It doesn't bother me that candidates are using it. People are going to make up their own minds about a candidate anyway."

Dave Siering, Spanish Lake, Mo.

"It's all salesmanship. The sayings are a technique of getting people to associate a candidate's name with a phrase — a catch all. Where's the beef? When you think of that you think of Wendy's Hamburgers and Walter Mondale. They're (the candidates) just trying to sell themselves, with the help of a little commercialism. No, it really doesn't bother me."

Says Weber is protecting Christian values

To the Editor:

Used as I am by now to reading the slanderous allegations being put forth against State's Attorney Don Weber and his office by the special monied interests in Madison County, I was nevertheless taken aback by the sheer gall shown by one of your recent correspondents.

Laura Moody, an employee of the local abortion parlor, has seen fit to allude to Nazi Germany and Communist Russia in the course of criticizing Assistant State's Attorney Chuck Evers' conduct of his job. Ms. Moody undoubtedly knows that the Nazis were the true pioneers of abortion, and that in Russia today the atheist regime promotes abortion on a scale unknown anywhere else in the world. What kind of hypocrisy is this?

In 1979, the state's attorney's office, under Weber's predecessor, took no action when a female customer of an abortion clinic died after having an abortion there. Is this what Ms. Moody means by enforcement of the law of the land?

Don Weber has repeatedly stated that he is the state's attorney for the "little guy." He knows that the most helpless little guys are the defenseless unborn children of our land. Thank God for Christian statesmen like Don Weber and devoted public servants like Chuck Evers!

Item veto is needed for a balanced budget

To the Editor:

On April 10 the Subcommittee on the Constitution of the Senate Judiciary Committee will hold hearings on legislation I have introduced which would help us greatly in solving the extraordinary economic problems that arise from huge federal budget deficits.

Senate Joint Resolution 26 proposes an amendment to the Constitution giving the president line item veto power over certain appropriations.

I can't stress enough how greatly the line item veto can help us in solving economic problems.

I was very pleased that President Reagan outlined a similar proposal in his State of the Union address.

As Illinoisans know, the line item veto idea is not a new one. It is contained in our state Constitution and in the constitutions of 42 other states.

Having a hearing on a line item proposal at the federal level is, however, something of a novelty.

Although more than 140 such proposals have been introduced in Congress since 1978, none has ever been acted on, and only once was there ever a formal hearing.

I do not introduce a constitutional amendment lightly. Constitutional solutions should be considered only in situations where the problem is very serious, of a continuing nature and where a statutory solution is impossible.

Our budget deficit problem meets this definition. The budget has been balanced only once in the last 20 years, and we are currently faced with the prospect of $200 billion yearly deficits as far into the future as anyone can see.

The power of the purse resides in Congress, and so Congress must play the primary role in balancing the budget. It is very difficult, however, for 535 members collectively to provide the leadership necessary to solve our fiscal problems.

That is why we must bring the president into the budget process to a greater degree. Res. 26 provides the president with the tool needed to provide budgetary leadership.

After 20 years in the Illinois General Assembly and 10 years in the executive branch, my experience tells me the item veto is workable at the federal level, and necessary.

My amendment gives the president the same budget options the governor of Illinois has. The president could veto or reduce any item of appropriations, with the exception of items affecting the judicial or legislative branches, as an alternative to vetoing an entire appropriations bill.

The procedure for override of an entire bill would not be changed — a two-thirds vote would be required.

Vetoes or reductions of individual items of appropriations, however, would be able to be overridden by a vote of a majority of members of Congress duly chosen and sworn.

Res. 26 is sensible and well balanced. It strengthens the president's role in the budget-making process without undermining the Congressional power of the purse.

Under this approach, the president could focus attention on particular items he believes inappropriate or wasteful. Congress could then decide, as it does now, whether to insist on that particular item.

It is time to make use of the states' experience at the federal level, to follow their example and to put an item veto provision in the federal Constitution.

COMMENTS GRANITE CITY'S PARAMEDICS SERVICES

To the Editor:

My wife and I feel sincerely that we should express a word of appreciation regarding the most excellent service we received from our local paramedics.

March 21st, just passed, a little before 7 in the morning, my wife was stricken with an angina attack, the first she had had. I called for an ambulance with the paramedics arrived in under three minutes. Their efficiency and manner were such as to give us reassurance and support which we so much needed at that time.

In June of last year, I was the patient who needed their services and received the very same quality of service as now. I neglected to express our appreciation at that time so would like to do so, even though late now.

We feel that we were in Granite City are very fortunate indeed to have such especially fine paramedics.

business after federal investigators arrived.

Reading from a log of telephone conversations (between Brimberry and the FBI) compiled by FBI agents, Brimberry said that he told authorities on Dec. 4, 1981, and Jan. 13 and 15, 1982, that Jerry Maerz had opened two accounts in Las Vegas, using money from Brimberry to purchase shares in Victoria Stations and King International.

Brimberry testified that he had considered the accounts to be closed at the time of his sworn interviews with federal agents.

He also told authorities during an interview Nov. 10, "I cannot remember everything, and as time goes by, things come back to me."

"As I remember things, I'll write them down and I'll be more than happy to give them to you," Brimberry recalled saying. He did this, he said, "to point out that (he) was not trying to hide anything."

"It was hard to remember everything about a massive fraud," Brimberry commented.

Brimberry reaffirmed earlier testimony that Duane Skinner, a former Pontoon Beach accountant, did not know that Brimberry was getting money illegally from Stix, even though Skinner "laundered" money from Stix for Brimberry and filled out Brimberry's tax returns.

"He knew that money was coming from the Rimco account (at Stix) and I had told him that it was Arthur Miller acting as Rimco," Brimberry said.

Asserting that he did not know why Arthur Miller Jr., brother of Justice Brimberry, had Skinner cash two Stix checks for him, Brimberry said, "I'd have tried to break Art's neck if I knew that he was trying to bring someone else into the scheme."

Brimberry also disputed earlier testimony by Miller that he (Miller) did not receive half of the money from the Arthur Miller Jr. account at Stix as agreed upon by the two men.

"I would say that Arthur Miller Jr. received in excess of half of the money from the Arthur Miller Jr. account," Brimberry told jurors.

Charged with attempting to con-

Brimberry

veal assets from the court-appointed Stix trustee, Brimberry said he sold Miller Excavating equipment with the consent of his then-attorney, Ed Maag, who knew that Brimberry had agreed to turn over assets to the trustee.

Brimberry also said that he told individuals to remove light fixtures, stained glass windows and a generator from his lavish Granite City home after he learned that some items were missing from his home.

These articles were placed in storage at a facility owned by Joe Hotze, a car-dealer in Salem, Ill., and Brimberry said he never asked Hotze to "hide or conceal" them from federal authorities, testimony related.

The fixtures and equipment were returned to the home at the request of the Bank of Edwardsville during foreclosure proceedings, Brimberry testified. He told jurors that Harry Moline, the trustee, did not want the house as one of Brimberry's assets.

"I offered numerous times to give the house back to Harry Moline, and his comments were that he did not want to get involved in making house payments, utility payments, and things on the home," Brimberry testified.

During cross-examination by Assistant U.S. Attorney Ronald Kane, Brimberry admitted that he had been convicted in May 1983 of two counts of obstructing justice, but said that he was innocent of those charges.

"I am not guilty of those acts," he told Kane, saying that he was advised by attorneys not to take the stand in his own behalf because of his medical condition. (Brimberry is diabetic and takes insulin regularly.)

He denied telling his former babysitter, Sherry Lissom, who testified for the government in the last trial, that he would be out of jail in 26 months, no matter what happened during this trial.

As Kane repeatedly asked Brimberry to explain or define testimony cited in the indictment, questioning differences between that testimony and last week's testimony, Brimberry said, "After, laying in a jail cell for months and months and months, things go through your mind and you remember things." Brimberry admitted living three lives from 1975 through 1981 — one as a common Stix employee, one as a Granite City family member, and one as a wife supposedly inheriting a great sum of money, and one as a high-rolling Las Vegas gambler. He told Kane, "I realize that I'm on trial for eight counts of lying, and I also realize that on Nov. 2, my three lives ended."

Brimberry accused Securities and Exchange Commission officials of allowing him to continue living a "nightmare," reminding Kane that Kane himself had called Brimberry in 1979 about a customer complaint, and opted not to investigate the matter because the client was a "crybaby."

"My nightmare would have ended," Brimberry said, if SEC agents would have investigated complaints. "The deal would have been up," he said.

Kane questioned Brimberry about his statement that he had lost $6 million in Las Vegas, asking Brimberry if his $485,000 Arizona home was purchased with gambling money. (Brimberry maintains that the home belongs to him and not to the Stix trustee because he bought it with gambling money and not with stolen Stix funds.)

"When you win in Las Vegas, it's your money, and when you lose in Las Vegas, it's Stix money. That's the position you took with the trustee, isn't it?" Kane asked.

"Yes, it is," Brimberry responded, and Kane then said, "It didn't work, did it?"

"No, it didn't," Brimberry replied.

Brimberry told jurors that he acted "in good faith" with the government as a cooperative witness, and never contemplated that he was the target of an investigation.

He told jurors that he entered into the plea agreement with the government to insure his wife's freedom from prosecution, enabling her to stay with their three children.

"Visibly fighting tears, Brimberry said, 'Why I would jeopardize that agreement by lying is beyond me.'"

Brimberry's testimony continues today, and he is expected to be on the stand through tomorrow.

Parents

about sex, answer the question!" she said.

Failure to teach children sexual responsibility can result in misery for even the happiest families. Teenage girls who become mothers and find themselves living on $236 a month experience frustration when rent is $100 a month, utility bills have to be paid and after paying for food and diapers, "there is nothing left," Mrs. Madison said. "This leaves a lot of frustration and leads to a lot of child abuse," she warned.

Her suggestions to avoiding teenage pregnancies include churches holding workshops and sessions for children on sex; schools offering accurate and forthright information and parents talking responsibility with their children. Parents should either screen the television shows and movies the children watch and the music to which they listen or should talk to the children about the dangers and responsibilities of actions they see and hear about.

"WE FEED sex to children wholesale. It's time we taught the responsibility that goes along with it. One teenage pregnancy is one too many," she concluded.

Bingo players angry

Venice police officers, who were called to a disturbance at the Venice American Legion hall Thursday night, were met by a large crowd of angry bingo players.

The participants complained that a bingo ball (1-29) had been stuck in the machine, and said they wanted their money back because this created unfairness.

Members of the crowd alleged that when they brought it to the attention of an announcer, he cursed at them.

The crowd tore up bingo cards and threw chairs around before officers arrived. The police are investigating.

SIUC launches a study-abroad program next fall

Southern Illinois University at Carbondale will launch a study-abroad program next fall that will take SIUE students to the Bloomsbury campus of the University of London.

The self-supporting program will be administered by the American Institute for Foreign Study (AIFS), a private Connecticut-based organization which provides overseas study and travel programs for students and teachers nationwide.

CLASSES WILL BE taught by faculty members from SIUC and five other participating universities. "The university has been increased in a semester-abroad program in London for a number of years," said Jared Dorn, assistant director of SIUC's Office of International Education. "After looking very carefully into several programs, we think we've found the perfect one."

Five other universities participate in the London study program, which began six years ago. They are the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee, Western Illinois University, the University of Nevada at Reno and the University of Nevada at Las Vegas. The University of Arizona plans to join in the fall, according to Dorn.

THE LONDON STUDY Center is located at the University of London Union Building in the Bloomsbury section of Central London. Classes are taught by faculty members from each of the participating universities. Each school sends one faculty member who teaches three courses and helps coordinate a course on "British Life and Culture," which brings in eminent British scholars for lectures and sends students on trips to historic and cultural sites.

Richard M. Blumenberg, SIUC professor of cinema and photography, will accompany the first group. He will teach half semester classes in film analysis, film planning and scripting, and contemporary film history.

perience and the necessity for developing respect and courtesy for all vehicles on the roadway.

There is no charge for the course and motorcycles, helmets and insurance will be provided to the participants. Persons must be at least 16 years of age and have a valid driver's license or learner's permit. Those under 18 must have parental permission to enroll in the course.

Annual dance event set at SIUE

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville University Theater's major annual dance event, "Dance in Concert," will open Thursday, April 12, with curtain at 8 p.m. Additional performances will be given at 8:15 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, April 13 and 14. All performances will be presented in the Communications Building theater.

THIS YEAR'S program includes 11 major works. Nine of them are choreographed by members of the SIUE dance faculty, and two have been conceived by dance staff members that they have developed.

Audrey Tallant, director of dance in the SIUE department of theater and dance and one of the three faculty choreographer/dancers, indicated that a variety of themes is being explored. "We've touched upon everything from the very serious to the absolutely silly," Miss Tallant said. "Basically," she continued, "we hope that the numbers will touch people, make them think and also give them a giggle or two."

The choreographers have been inspired by such things as an atomic explosion, the novel "Thorn Birds," Duke Ellington's music, daydreams, death and dying, proings into one's "Secret Self," and light beams moving through stained glass windows.

THE FINAL number of the program, choreographed by Miss Tallant, is called "Morgue" and is danced by 13 persons, each of whom explores the nature of a selected comic character.

The production lighting designer is Sandra Ann Thomey, who is assisted by Pam Parker. Kathy McCarty is stage manager.

Parking is free behind the theater building on nights of performance. Ticket and reservation information is available by calling 1-692-2773.

'The Boy Friend' opens Wednesday at GCHS

This year's spring musical at the Senior High School is Sandy Wilson's "The Boy Friend," a spoof of a kind of musicals done in the 1920's and 1930's.

It takes place during the Roaring '20s and concerns the antics of a group of young ladies (mostly English) who are at the Villa Caprice on the Riviera. It is perhaps best remembered as the vehicle that first brought Julie Andrews to the United States before she starred in "My Fair Lady."

Performances are scheduled for Wednesday, April 11, Thursday, April 12, and Friday, April 13. Curtain time is 7:30 p.m. and tickets will be on sale at the door or from cast members.

"The Boy Friend" is directed by Beverly Scroggins of the Speech Department staff. Musical direction is by Gail E. Meuller, choreography by Margaret Pennell and the pit orchestra is directed by Joseph Owens.

Leading roles are played by: Polly, Jennifer Little; Tony, Adam Schneider; Percival, Richard Skubish; Madame Dubonett, Gina Garner; Maisie, Melissa Pennell; Bobby, Kevin Doak; Hortense, Karen Fuller; Lord Brockhurst, Laura Sullivan; and Dulcie, Elizabeth Bodman.

Others in the cast are Debbie Rozzycki, Brian Harris, Sean McGovern, Cindy Melton, Michael Salem. Those in the chorus are Becky Kozyack, Sheryl Siler, Missy Kozyack, Della Corbitt, Don Fisher, David Lane, Richard Mendoza, Ben Sanders, Matt Russell, Frank Woods, Ken Beljanski, Tracie McGee, Marta Mendoza, Beth Dunn, Cindy Gray, Claudia Kachigian and Ann-Marie Campous.

Laboratory Week feted

The St. Elizabeth Medical Center Laboratory will celebrate National Medical Laboratory Week, April 8 to 14.

This year's theme, "The Medical Laboratory — Bringing the Diagnosis into Focus," emphasizes the important role played by the Laboratory staff in diagnostic and patient care.

The lab at SEMC is a College of American Pathology approved laboratory which employs 90 employees and performs more than $1 million in tests a year. "The accurate, dependable and fast test results provided by these dedicated professionals, who use the latest in technology, are essential to the detection, diagnosis, treatment, prevention and study of disease," a SEMC spokesman said.

Since laboratory medicine is a dynamic field with new procedures being developed daily, continued education is an on-going part of the department. More than 50 percent of the lab associates have bachelor's and master's degrees while the remaining have associate degrees. "These trained professionals enable you to go with the more advanced technology," said Lori Stanzell, laboratory supervisor.

National Medical Laboratory Week is co-sponsored by the American Society of Clinical Pathologists and other groups in approximately 13,000 laboratories and 6,000 hospitals throughout the United States. Its purpose is to foster better communication and understanding among laboratories, hospital employees and the communities which they serve.

State intensifying anti-drunk driving measures

Governor James R. Thompson unveiled a statewide anti-drunk driving campaign before the Illinois Broadcasters Association (IBA) Tuesday and sent a special message to the General Assembly seeking to expand efforts to control drunk driving on Illinois roads.

"In recent years, government and the public have turned a critical eye toward our nation's highways, facing the problem of drunk driving with a sense of urgency and concern," the governor said in the second in a series of special messages to legislators he proposed in his State of the State and Budget messages.

"The severity of the problem cannot be overemphasized," Thompson said, citing figures that show reductions in state highway deaths for six consecutive years. "The improved statistics reflect increased public awareness of the problem, increased enforcement of Driving Under the Influence (DUI) laws, tougher laws and public support of enforcement programs."

In his message, which follows cost control efforts the governor outlined in the first message to the General Assembly last week, Thompson said 25 additional Illinois State Police troopers will be hired in Fiscal Year 1985 to boost DUI patrols and improve field sobriety testing.

More than 30,000 extra hours of DUI patrol were dedicated to times and locations shown to have a high incidence of DUI in Fiscal Year 1983. In Fiscal 1984 and again in 1985, that figure will jump to 48,000 hours, Thompson said.

To continue improved DUI enforcement, the governor in December 1983 named a task force led by Secretary of State Jim Edgar to further study drunk driving in Illinois. The group will report its findings to the governor in July 1985.

In introducing the IBA program, the governor said, "The IBA has shown a willingness and a commitment to serve the public in several specific areas of need. Over the past few years, the state has successfully worked with the IBA to promote the adoption of children's car seats to begin the Parents Too Soon ad campaign, an initiative I announced at last year's IBA luncheon," the governor said.

"The Illinois broadcast industry and state government, working together, have become partners in improving the public in a spirit of cooperation that has found homes for the homeless, will help children having children and will help reduce drunk driving," he said.

Thompson, who will serve as honorary chairman of the IBA effort, said the IBA program is the type of public-private sector cooperation needed to address issues such as drunk driving and is vital in the battle against drunk driving.

"Since 55 percent of all fatal highway accidents involve a drunk driver, it is clear that removing the drunk driver from our nation's highways would cut in half the tragic situations which account for tens of thousands of deaths across the country each year," the governor said.

The IBA campaign, to be called

BADD (Broadcasters Against Drunk Driving), will be directed by a 25-member task force of radio and television executives who will coordinate the production of public service announcements, said Gene McPherson, IBA president and president of two Oley radio stations.

In addition, McPherson said the program will work with community groups to increase public awareness of the dangers of drunk driving, as well as taking steps to coordinate ride services during peak drunk driving periods of the year, such as Christmas and New Year's.

More information on BADD is available from Wally Gair at 1-217-787-6503.

GOP officials plan conference

Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) will sponsor the third Annual "Land of Lincoln Conference" for Illinois' Republican officials April 13 to 15 at the Springfield Hilton in Springfield, Illinois.

Patterned after the annual Tidewater Conference, which gathers together Republican officeholders from across the country, the "Land of Lincoln Conference" brings together Illinois' Republican officials in an informal setting to debate and discuss major national issues affecting Illinois. Joining Percy in sponsoring the conference are Governor James R. Thompson and Illinois Republican State Committee Chairman Don W. Adams.

The conference begins with a reception and a dinner on Friday, April 13, and concludes at noon on Saturday, April 15. During the working sessions of the conference, resolutions on topics of national importance will be introduced and opposing viewpoints will be presented. Following small group discussions, participants will vote on each resolution. Resolutions on the deficit, farm policy, education and others will be presented.

"The Land of Lincoln Conference is designed to bring our state's Republican leaders together in an open, public policy forum," said Percy. "It offers an opportunity to share ideas and work toward a consensus on matters that vitally affect our state, as well as our nation, and it further provides an opportunity to enhance unity among Illinois Republicans."

State buys Douglas' furniture

Governor James R. Thompson has arranged the purchase for the Illinois Executive Mansion Association of six pieces of custom-made furniture owned by Stephen A. Douglas in the 1850's.

"Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas are two of the greatest figures in Illinois history. The Executive Mansion owns a number of artifacts which belonged to Mr. Lincoln," the governor said. "So when Mr. Douglas' furniture became available, a little bi-partisanism seemed in order. It is appropriate for the mansion to have some of Mr. Douglas' things and for the people of Illinois to have the opportunity to see them."

The governor obtained $2,200 in private funds to buy the two armchairs, two side chairs, one parlor table and a fern stand. All six pieces are made of solid oak, with Douglas' monogram deeply carved and prominently displayed in overlaid, locking letters.

"The pieces are quite massive and typical of the period," said Bill Nifmeger, conservator of the Executive Mansion. "However, the proportions are unusual. The seats are higher than normal and the backs of the chairs are more fully upholstered so the person seated in one of the chairs would appear somewhat larger than he actually was."

Douglas, who was called "The Little Giant," was 5 foot 4 inches tall. Douglas also was a frustrated woodcarver who loved to work with wood, but found little time to pursue his hobby. "It would be wonderful to think that Mr. Douglas had carved the pieces himself," said James Hickey, curator of the Lincoln Collection at the State Historical Library. "but it's not reasonable to believe that he would have had the time to do it."

The history of the furniture is not known, but Hickey believes the pieces were left to Douglas' sister and brother-in-law who lived with him in a Washington, D.C., house. Douglas remarried after the death of his first wife and probably left the furnishings with his sister when he moved. The pieces were later owned by Douglas' niece and consigned to Leslie Hindman Auctioneers of Chicago. Governor Thompson was advised of the furniture's existence there after it was unsuccessfully offered for auction.

When purchased, the furniture was covered in black oil cloth and black leather which had deteriorated beyond repair. The pieces have been fully restored and recovered in forest green velvet, which is typical of the period in piece will be used at the Executive Mansion. Others will be used in the governor's office in the Capitol.

Serving our country

News of Quad-City area reservicemen serving in the various branches of the U.S. military includes:

JUDITH CARROLL
Naval Reserve Petty Officer First Class Judith Carroll of Granite City participated in "Rainbow Reach '84," a Military Sealift Command nationwide exercise.

"She is a member of a Reserve Military Sealift Command headquarters unit, attached to the St. Louis Naval and Marine Corps Reserve Center, which, in time of war, would report for duty to MSC headquarters Far East in Yokohama, Japan.

The "Command Post" phase of Rainbow Reach '84—an exercise involving about 2,000 Naval reservists in some 45 units of the U.S. Navy's Military Sealift Command (MSC)—was completed March 25.

The realistic drill was based on events that could possibly happen in today's tension-filled international political climate, using actual available ship resources.

Across the country, MSC Naval reservists were linked to each other by computer terminals with electronic mail capabilities, telephone copiers and telephones.

Working together, the reservists focused on mock hostile activities against the United States—hostilities occurring simultaneously in the western Pacific, eastern Mediterranean and the Indian Ocean.

"From what I've seen, MSC Naval reservists will be able to perform Military Sealift Command functions around the world," reports Naval Reserve Captain Robert Donnell, deputy officer conducting the exercise for the Far East Component, in San Diego.

"Rainbow Reach '84 ensures that reservists receive the meaningful training they must have, when mobilized, to rapidly assemble ships and quickly move the cargo to wherever U. S. and allied forces need it.

"But our cargo-carrying capability will be strained," Captain Donnell said. "The strain will be severe because our country's merchant fleet—U. S. flag civilian ships we could count on in war—has shrunk so dramatically during the past 30 years. These now number fewer than 500, only a fraction of the 3,000 that the Russians have in active use, all considered as naval auxiliaries and ready to use by the Soviet navy."

Captain Donnell said this loss of cargo-carrying "platforms" hurts the U. S. the most when, "We have to supply Navy, Department of Defense and the allied combat units fighting a prolonged campaign in more than one area at the same time."

"There just aren't enough American flag merchant ships to support the U. S. in a war and also carry on economic trade for the country's survival."

In contrast, Naval authorities pointed out, the military forces of the United Kingdom (no longer a U. S.-type superpower) were able to defeat the Argentinians during the Falkland Islands campaign because the British merchant fleet was there to support the military.

Within a seven-week time frame, the British assembled a task force of 28,000 men and more than 100 ships; sailed 8,000 miles to fight a well-entrenched and supplied Argentine enemy, which outnumbered them six to one; and defeated them in 3½ weeks, it was noted.

Of those ships, 45 were merchant vessels—from passenger liners to trawlers and tugs, manned by crews trained to operate with the Royal Navy—were taken from regular commercial use.

"The ships were outfitted with helicopter decks, minesweeping, communications navigation and cryptographic equipment.

Despite the lack of U. S. merchant ships, the MSC Naval reservists learned a few lessons of their own during Rainbow Reach '84.

"Rainbow Reach '84 not only provides a realistic environment in which to practice learned technical skills, but also tests and enhances the capability of MSC Naval reservists to reach mobilization sites, plus their ability to communicate and conduct operations from their sites," Captain Donnell said.

"And, I think we all performed rather well. When the real thing happens we'll be a valuable asset to the U. S. Navy," he added.

The entire exercise's activities span March and April and involved reserve headquarters from St. Louis, Kansas City and San Diego, and MSC office units in Oklahoma City, Portland, Little Rock, Long Beach, Dallas, Los Angeles and Lansing, Mich.

Parents Too Soon group can offer help

By MARY DOETSCH
SPRINGFIELD — Parents Too Soon is a new state program helping "children" who are at risk of having a child, who are expecting a child or who already have children.

Fact: One of every 10 girls between the ages of 15 and 19 becomes pregnant in Illinois every year.

Fact: In 1982, births to teens accounted for 13.9 percent of all births in Illinois.

Fact: An estimated 150,000 infants and children are living with 130,000 teen parents in Illinois an 100,000 of those children were born to mothers 17 years old or younger.

PTS, an inter-agency cooperative effort established last year with federal dollars, is designed to reduce the incidence of pregnancy in teenage 11 to 20 and lessen the adverse consequences of teenage childbearing.

Teen births have been linked with a high rate of infant mortality, health risks, long-term welfare dependency, disrupted education and a lack of job skills.

PTS coordinator Linda P. Miller said the program has an "intentionally unique design" because the problems associated with teen pregnancy are wide-ranging and complex. "Coordination is our underlying philosophy," Miller explained. "These teens are hard to reach."

Under the umbrella of PTA, 10 different state agencies provide direct services throughout Illinois and serve as a partnership vehicle with other community agencies — both public and private.

One of the main program concerns is to make certain each agency knows its own role, in addition to the services being provided by the other departments. "There are 10 different agencies trying to cooperate and still do their own thing, yet we try to make sure the kids get everything they need," Meg O'Connor, public affairs coordinator for PTS said.

The Department of Public Health acts as PTS lead agency, coordinating the efforts of other nine agencies. Most of the fiscal 1984 funding of $12.9 million will be budgeted through IDPH.

IDPH provides health services, prenatal, perinatal (obstetric and first-month-pediatric) and family planning grants and operates the supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children and also funds three model demonstration sites.

These three sites serve Chicago's west side, Winnebago County and the seven southernmost counties in Illinois and were selected because of their high rates of teenage births, infant mortality and unemployment.

Each provides the whole gamut of services in one site. Educational, vocational, social and health services are offered to both teenage boys and girls. "PTS has not forgotten the father," Miller said. "We're also attempting to bring them in, teach them parenting training and help them with their jobs." Still in its own infancy, PTS is relatively unknown among teens. "Getting these kids in for service is the key," Miller said. "Many of them are scared and may not know what services are out there." One cooperating agency, the Illinois Information Service, is preparing a media campaign aimed at letting teens know what kinds of help is available. "It's hard for them to find their way," she added. "We're trying to give them a helping hand."

State taxpayers can deduct property taxes

A key change to the Illinois Income Tax Act may mean money in the pocket for many Illinois homeowners.

Legislation enacted during the past session of the General Assembly allows homeowners for the first time to subtract from their adjusted gross income all property taxes paid during the tax year on their primary Illinois residence.

"The property tax subtraction will reduce a homeowner's taxable income by the amount of property tax paid," explained Revenue Director J. Thomas Johnson. "Homeowners will benefit from this tax relief measure without any effect on local governments which depend on property taxes to provide essential services such as police and fire protection."

Johnson pointed out that the deduction applies only to a homeowner's principal Illinois residence. This means that only a portion of property taxes paid may be subtracted if a personal residence property and if a share of the property tax is deductible as a business expense on a federal income tax return.

In order to claim a subtraction for state income tax purposes, a claimant must factor out the portion of the property tax attributable to property other than that used as a principal residence. A worksheet to help homeowners compute the subtraction is on the reserve side of the state individual income tax return (IL-1040).

Taxpayers with questions concerning the property tax subtraction or other items on the income tax return should contact the nearest Department of Revenue field office listed on the inside cover of the tax return booklet. Taxpayers also may call the Department of Revenue at 1-217-782-3336 or 1-313-641-2150.

Arrest man, 21, on forgery count

An informational document alleging forgery was issued last week by the Madison County state's attorney's office against Donald R. Palovichik Jr., 21, of 4043 Division St., Pontoon Beach.

Palovichik was arrested at 11:10 a.m. Tuesday at the drive-up window of First Granite City National Bank's Bellemore facility, where he allegedly attempted to cash a $425 check written on the account of Granite City physician.

A verification call from the bank reportedly led to the discovery of two checks missing from a checkbook belonging to the doctor. It was alleged.

Palovichik additionally was booked for driving with a suspended license. He was released after posting a $1,500 cash bond.

DUI charge after train-car mishap

Marvin Glenn Hills, 33, of 2657 Grand Ave., was injured and taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center after his 1972 auto struck the side of a coal car on a National Steel train at Madison Avenue and 16th Street last week. Later, he was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

Hills was traveling north on Madison Avenue and apparently didn't see the train, according to reports. The crossing lights were operating at the time of the collision, it was alleged.

Victor Strubberg of Plainview, Ill., engineer of the National Steel locomotive, said the train was along-side 16th Street, facing west, and he had just started to back into the yard when the accident occurred.

A blood alcohol test was administered in the SEMC emergency room and Hills was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol.

Chouteau planning drainage project with pumping station

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

A possibility of a drainage project along Chain of Rocks Road to alleviate the standing water resulting from excessive rain this year, and a re-evaluation of the census figures in Chouteau Township were ideas presented to the Chouteau Board of Trustees by Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks last week.

A letter from the Illinois Department of Transportation was read by Sparks, detailing the installation plans for a lift or pump station in progress. Work on the project should begin during the summer months.

The station is to be located on the north side of Old Route 66, almost directly across the street from 15 Acres Lounge, Sparks explained. It is hoped this will remedy drain water that has plagued the residents along Chain of Rocks Road, Sunny Shores and South Thorngate Drive for a long time.

Sparks said he met with Dale Klor, district engineer of the Illinois Department of Transportation, to check on the piping that has been purchased by the township as their contribution to the district plan and it was determined enough equipment is ready to proceed with the engineering project as soon as the weather permits.

Census figures released March 16 of this year reflected a loss of 246 people in Chouteau Township. At an earlier meeting, Sparks said he would check on this, as he believes it is wrong and the population count has a direct bearing on funding the township receives from various agencies, including Revenue Sharing funds.

This lower amount was arrived upon by taking the 1982 census figure and comparing it with unemployment figures, new housing and a medium number of household members of 3.08. Therefore the total population is lower than it should be, according to the supervisor.

He read a letter he prepared which says the township has 3,001 housing units with an estimated 9,243 residents living within the boundaries of the area.

"This is a growing suburban community with new homes being built and I cannot agree with a decrease in the population. Therefore, I have asked the U.S. Department of Census and the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs to recheck their figures and arrive at a more acceptable total. I hope to have a response to this letter at the next meeting," Sparks said.

Also of interest to the township was the announcement of a meeting on Thursday, April 12, designed for all township officials to discuss information concerning collection of interest on tax monies now being held by Mick Henkhaus, Madison

County Tax Collector

The session will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Room 206 of the college. Sparks explained. Unofficial sources indicate that the Illinois Supreme Court Tuesday refused to hear the case which sought to give the county the right to keep interest from collected taxes.

Sparks informed the board the township has received $196 from Community Development for energy applications, as well as interest payments of $928 in both the town fund and general assistance fund.

In other business, the board members agreed to purchase a surety bond for $7,000 and burglary insurance for a two-year period costing $189 for Michael Johnson, Chouteau tax collector. They also agreed to rehire the R.C. Scheffel Accounting Firm of Alton to audit the township's accounts for the sum of $2,475, with an additional $320 for auditing the revenue sharing account.

Announcements included a

Q: I'm self employed, and am thinking about opening a Keogh plan for my retirement. Would you give me a few of the rules concerning such a plan?

A: The rules governing a Keogh plan, which is a retirement program for self-employed persons, either on a full or part-time basis, can be a little complex. You should sit down with your banker and discuss the plan fully. However, here are a few basics. The limit for the traditional Keogh plan is an annual income, up to a maximum of $30,000. The definition of earned income has a considerable bearing and is one area in which your banker can be of particular help. Dividends, interest and all other gains made by your Keogh investment accumulate on a tax-free basis until the funds are withdrawn at retirement. Contributions to a Keogh are also tax free, making it a desirable tax shelter. Withdrawals can be made without penalty, until age 59½, and after retirement, unless you become disabled prior to that age. One does not have to begin withdrawals until age 70½. The higher annual contribution limits beginning this year, have made Keogh plans quite popular.

City opposing therapy center

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

Saying a picture was worth a thousand words, Steve Balen, Region 1 special education director, asked a small group of youths to rise from their seats and introduce themselves last week at the Granite City Township Hall.

The students, enrolled in an educational program (for youngsters with behavior problems) that could be relocated at Lake School, stood up and politely gave their first names.

The issue of the program's location may be decided tomorrow night. The youths sat down and waited while the Granite City Council debated whether or not those or similar students would present either a real or imagined threat to The Anchorage, local senior citizen housing complex situated across a field from the Lake School site.

But the severe hail and rainstorm that pelted the area several hours earlier apparently prevented most of the protesting Anchorage residents from attending and seeing the students for themselves.

The youths quietly departed after the aldermen unanimously voted to ask Granite City Community Unit District 9 not to lease Lake School to the Educational Therapy Center.

Some aldermen also said a decision to the contrary by the school district could result in a legal zoning dispute.

Next meeting of the Board of Education is tomorrow night. Balen, who sits on the Educational Therapy Center board, had tried to convince aldermen the issue was not one of the needs of youths vs. the security of older residents. But phone calls and petitions objecting to the location convinced aldermen otherwise.

First Ward Alderman Casmer Skubish, whose district covers The Anchorage, held above his head a group of petitions he received from his constituents, urging the council to reject the day and residential program proposed for Lake School, 3201 E. 23rd St.

He said the 500 signatures expressed the fear that had been aroused in residents due to past violent episodes in the area unrelated to the proposed school. (In one incident in February, a police officer shot a man wielding a knife in the neighborhood.)

"They (residents) are entitled to peace and contentment," Skubish said.

Presence of the youth center would be enough to "set the people in fear of violence," regardless of whether they were told the school would pose no such problems, he commented.

David Morgan, executive director of the Granite City Housing Authority, that oversees the Anchorage apartments, called Lake School the wrong place for the youth center. "I've got 200 families out there, and those people are afraid," he said.

Fears were generated by unsubstantiated reports that circulated for several weeks before the school district had begun formal consideration of the proposal. Lake is one of the school's idle due to enrollment and financial trends, and ETC voiced hopes of leasing the building.

The rumors included assertions that law violators would be housed there; none would be.

Balen presented his own petition from 32 residents living near one of the three current Educational Therapy Center locations, in East Alton. The others are in Collinsville and at the Madison County Juvenile Home in Edwardsville.

He said those residents had not been subjected to any incidents involving students enrolled in the behavioral disorder program. BD is one of the categories of special education.

Balen emphasized that the center's students housed at the county detention home are there merely because of the availability of space and not due to criminal activity.

He said students in the program were accepted due to school-related problems only. "These are children with problems," he said. "They are not criminals."

The types of behavior disorders the school deals with include verbal communication problems, short attention spans, overactivity, impulsive actions, depression, frequent absences from school and threatening behavior.

Most of the students would fall in the 13- to 18-year-old category, although the program does allow those up to 21 to participate.

Balen said a limited number of the students would be housed under constant supervision at Lake School. The majority of the students would attend only during daylight hours and would be dismissed by 3:30 p.m.

He said the residential students would "never be turned loose on the streets."

Lee Thomas, a spokesman for the Granite City Citizens Forum, denied that he had ever opposed the location of the school despite the fact that he voiced rumors about "rapes and murders" when addressing the Board of Education on March 27.

He proved to be a supporter of the program at the council meeting, and noted that he had just toured one of the center facilities. "I can tell you right now the preconceived notions I had about the program were not borne out by the facts," he told the aldermen.

Thomas talked with the students and "I didn't see any of them that seemed to be a particularly desperate citizen," he said.

A similar day program was conducted at the former Stallings School, B.J. Davis, superintendent of the Granite City school district, told the City Council.

He could not recall any problems the school caused neighbors there. "We think the program is needed," he added.

Without the therapy center, Davis said, the young people could be out on the streets; with the program, they could learn and then go back into the community as better residents.

The superintendent said the school board had not yet made a decision on whether to lease Lake School to the Educational Center, but that he was continuing with negotiations for a possible contract.

Davis said the site is currently zoned for a school and, as such, falls under the codes of the state and not the city.

"That might be a problem that will have to be settled in court," according to Sixth Ward Alderman Woodrow "Woody" Moad, an opponent of the proposed location.

Sambuchi denies rumors he is leaving GC Steel

Ed Sambuchi, vice president and general manager of the Granite City Steel Division of National Intergroup, Inc., told the Press-Record this morning that rumors about him being transferred from Granite City are premature.

Sambuchi noted that Burt Fischley, head of the Great Lakes Steel division, plans to retire before February 1985 and Sambuchi is among the candidates to replace him.

"In order to ensure an orderly transition when Burt retires, corporate is considering several candidates for his replacement, of whom I am one. However, let me assure you that if I am chosen as Burt Fischley's successor, you will be notified through proper channels in a prompt manner," Sambuchi said.

In a message to employees, Sambuchi stated, "I hope that, in the meantime, we can put an end to working together to make Granite City Steel the lowest-cost producer of high quality steel in this country. Our success in accomplishing this will be directly dependent upon your contribution."

"I believe our people are the best steelmakers around and I am looking forward to what I am sure will be a record of accomplishments for Granite City Steel and its employees, of which I am proud to be one," he concluded.

Allege 2 involved in SEMC incident

Timothy P. Daughity, 18, and Leroy E. Daughity Jr., 17, both of 9 Watertown Circle, arrested at Granite City police on charges of criminal trespass to land and theft, appeared in court at 2:10 p.m. that day.

Both men pleaded innocent to all charges and their bonds were reduced to $102 each. Mitimuses were to be issued, but both Daughities were released by order of Associate Judge Nicholas P. Byron on notices to appear for hearings.

Charges filed against the pair resulted from a March 9 incident in the parking garage at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. At that time, a security officer advised that three men allegedly siphoning gasoline from a 1971 auto had been caught. One man broke free and ran across Madison Avenue and then the other two also got away, the guard reported.

A siphoning hose allegedly was found hanging from the auto and gas was spilling out onto the pavement, reports said. Descriptions of the men allegedly involved was given police.

Design for Youth is chapter program

Mrs. Ron Pennell presented a program entitled, "Design for Youth" about Cotley Junior College, at the monthly meeting of Chapter HT, P.E.O. Sisterhood, held in the home of Mrs. Randall Robertson, last week.

Cotley is the only women's college in the nation owned and supported by a women's organization. The P.E.O. Sisterhood is an international philanthropic educational organization of 210,000 members dedicated to providing educational opportunities for women, Mrs. Pennell explained.

The college is located 100 miles south of Kansas City in Nevada, Mo., near the Missouri Ozarks. It has a quality 3-year program and is accredited by the North Central Association and a member of the National Association of Schools of Music, the speaker announced.

She added, "It has an international student body with students coming from more than 40 states, Canada and several foreign countries. The enrollment is limited to 350 students therefore, making a low student-faculty ratio - one faculty member for every 10 students," Mrs. Pennell noted.

Cotley's comprehensive fee of $4,200 covers tuition, room and board, health center costs, music instruction and entrance to all campus events. This fee is competitive with many state universities and is far below the cost of most private colleges. Financial aid and scholarships are available. More information may be obtained through local P.E.O. Chapters or by writing to Cotley College, Nevada, Mo., 64772, the guest speaker added.

Svezia celebrates 25 years of success as owner of Tony's

John Svezia, owner and operator of Tony's Restaurant, 1504 Madison Ave., says he owes the success of his business to patience, an understanding family, good help and dedicated customers.

Svezia made the statement during the celebration of his restaurant's 25th anniversary. The official anniversary was Friday, but due to Friday being the busiest day of the week for the restaurant, the celebration was held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. During those days, the restaurant featured 1959 prices—or close to them—on all of the menu items.

SVEZIA BOUGHT the restaurant from his brother, Tony, 25 years ago, when Tony retired due to illness. Since that time, quite a few things have changed at the restaurant.

"Back then we used to only serve barbecued ribs, beef and pork," Svezia said. "But today we serve breakfast and everything on up. We even feature a special of the day."

Svezia said the size of the building also has expanded. "See those signs above the counter," he asked, pointing about 10 feet away from the far side of the restaurant. "This place used to end right there. Now we have more tables for customers and a bigger kitchen."

ONE OF THE things that hasn't changed, though, is the customers. "We have a variety of people as customers here—people from all walks of life," he said. "We have customers that range from lawyers to truck drivers." Svezia said it is the customers that keep returning to which he is the most grateful, especially the truck drivers. "A lot of people have the wrong impression of truck drivers, but in 25 years, I've only had one incident involving one," he said. "They really are good customers."

He also said that over the years he has employed several people who have gone on to do pretty well for themselves. Members of the distinguished alumni include Judge Charles Chapman, circuit court judge, and Don Bridick, Madison police chief, who both donned aprons and caps, acting as honorary busboys during the celebration. "I've had a lot of good people come through here, including the employees I have now," Svezia said.

SVEZIA SAID his business now is the best it has ever been. He said he owes that, in part, to a menu addition of Icelandic fish, which has become a popular item.

Despite the good business, Svezia said he has seen his share of rocky moments. He cited the truckers strike one year ago, which really slowed the number of customers he had.

Svezia said his most memorable experience came in 1973, when part of the restaurant caught on fire. He said he picked up a hose, climbed on top of the roof and helped the fire department put out the blaze.

SVEZIA SAID he is especially

SILVER TOAST. Former employees and the owner of Tony's Restaurant, 1504 Madison Ave., met last week to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the business, which was Friday, April 6. The celebration included special 1959 prices on menu items, which

Hours at the restaurant are 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. on weekdays and Saturdays. Hours on Sundays are 6 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Svezia, and his wife, Catherine, have been life residents of the area. They have two daughters, Lynn and Jean.

Early Wednesday morning, two to three inches of water standing on the cafeteria floor raised suspicion of a water main break on the high school property. The board approved the investigative digging and any necessary repairs.

ARREST MISSOURI MEN

John C. Young, 18, of Bellefontaine Neighbors, Mo., and Richard W. Klug, 17, of St. Louis, were charged with disorderly conduct recently and were released, pending a hearing, after each posted a $52 cash bond.

The pair was arrested after police went to the parking area at McDonald's Restaurant, 1515 Johnson Road, where a fight reportedly was in progress. About 200 young people were in the vicinity at the time, it was noted.

When police arrived, Young and Klug were being held by security officers who alleged the same youths had caused problems last weekend at that location.

Venice OKs use of facilities, buses

By RACHEL NEWSOME

The Venice School Board discussed several major issues, yet granted few requests last week.

Superintendent of Schools, Robert Vickers brought to the board's attention the many requests by community organizations to use school facilities. Included was the use of the high school cafeteria by the park district during the summer months and the use of buses by other organizations, primarily the Venice Lion's Club.

The request by the Lion's Club for two buses to transport children to a minutes and act on any business that comes before the annual town meetings.

Referring to the prevailing asbestos problem in area schools, Glasper stated, "we should do more than just post warnings." Warnings have been posted in all affected areas as required by law, however the board is considering encapsulation or complete removal of all asbestos.

Robbery suspect is arrested after chase from SIUE campus

Manfred D. McGee, 25, of East St. Louis, was being questioned by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville police and Madison County officers last week in connection with an armed robbery last Monday night at Tower Lake Apartments on the campus. Police said six charges have been placed against McGee, who is on parole on charges from St. Clair County.

McGee was arrested by state officers before noon Tuesday after the car he was driving collided with a truck on Interstate-55-70 west of Route 152. Prior to the collision, McGee had been pursued by police from SIUE, state agencies and local governments after he eluded arrest on the University campus. Police said he was armed with a .357-Magnum revolver when he was taken into custody.

The charges filed against McGee include: home invasion, two counts of armed robbery, battery, escape and unlawful use of a weapon. University police are continuing to search for a second suspect in the armed robbery of two students in Building 402 at Tower Lake about 8:35 p.m. Monday. Byron Jackson and Leon James, occupants of Apartment 1-C, told police that two men armed with revolvers forced their way into the apartment and took a total of $140 in cash.

McGee scuffled with three SIUE policemen, Gerald Cloninger, Charles McGinness and Frank Harrison, as the officers attempted to take McGee into custody about 9 a.m. Tuesday in Classroom Building II. McGee broke away from the officers and fled in an automobile. Later, he drove through a roadblock at a campus exit and as many as eight police vehicles from several agencies joined in the pursuit.

Wayne Schrage, an SIUE police officer participating in the pursuit, received minor injuries when the car he was driving collided with a vehicle at the intersection of Route 157 and Interstate 270. Schrage was taken to Oliver C. Anderson Hospital in Maryville for treatment.

No injuries were reported when McGee's car collided with an Atwater Grain Co. truck being driven on Interstate 55-70 by Mike McFarland of Virden. After the crash, McGee's auto careened into the highway median, where police converged on him and made the arrest. Two State Police cars sustained minor damage when they were driven into the median.

McGee was released on parole by St. Clair County on Dec. 2. He is enrolled as a student at SIUE.

Amateur Boxing Martinez wins Diamond Gloves

N. ST. LOUIS — The Mexican Honorary Commission boxing team, having its best year ever, had six boxers entering the semifinal and championship rounds of the Henry Armstrong Annual Diamond Gloves Boxing Tournament last weekend at the Wohl Recreation Center.

But that string of good fortune soured as one boxer after another fell from contention, just one win short of winning the coveted championship title.

When it was over, only Mark Martinez, MHC's 106-pound sub-novice boxer, was able to carry the first-place trophy home. Martinez, in only his eighth amateur fight, defeated Leon Calvin of the North Side Bombers for the Diamond Gloves championship. It was Martinez's third win of the tournament and his seventh consecutive.

OPP Hagauer, MHC's 156-pound sun-novice boxer, dropped his semifinal bout Thursday to Anthony Willis of the Wellston Boxing Club and Steve Gancheff, MHC's 119-pound novice representative in the tournament, dropped his championship bout Friday to Eric Walker of the Mathews-Dickey Boys' Club.

The rain continued to fall on MHC's boxers as Darin Hahs, a 60-pound sub-novice, lost a split decision to Eric Wessenhant of the South Side (St. Louis) Warriors.

Darin's twin brother, Daryl, didn't fare much better as he lost his 70-pound sub-novice bout to Demetrius Cook of the Wellston Boxing Club.

"EXPERIENCE beat Daryl," said MHC Coach Mercie Mendoza afterwards. "Cook has been fighting a lot longer than Daryl. His (Cook's) height and long arms were too much for a fighter of his experience to overcome," Mendoza said.

The final local boxer to fall from competition was Derek Bloodworth, MHC's 75-pound sub-novice. A close fight, Bloodworth eventually lost to Mark Randal of the Wellston Boxing Club.

Losing was bad enough, but officials initially awarded the championship trophy to Bloodworth and then, three fights later, declared the decision a mistake and Bloodworth had to give up the trophy.

"It upsets me for them to do this," Mendoza said. "But I can get over it. What about the kids. That's a terrible thing to do to the kids."

The local club will travel to the Belleville Boxing Club's Belle-Clair Show Tuesday night for exhibition boxing. According to Mendoza, four local boxers will take the ring. Action begins at 8 p.m.

JUST GLOVIN' IT. Daryl Hahs, MHC's 70-pound sub-novice boxer, displays the form which earned a berth into Saturday's Diamond Gloves championship at the Wohl Recreation Center in St. Louis. Hahs, however, failed in his quest for the championship as he lost a decision to Demetrius Cook of the Wellston Boxing Club. The local boxers did, however, manage one champion, Mark Martinez, in the 106-pound sub-novice division.

East St. Louis Senior Wins Warriors finish sixth in Mineral Area Meet Madison Tracksters 16th

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

BELLEVILLE — The Granite City High School Warriors received some long-distance help from senior Jim Robertson to place sixth out of 25 teams at the Mineral Area Meet held Saturday at Belleville East.

Robertson finished second in the 3200-meter run with a time of 9:31.6 and first in the 1600-meter run with a 4:30.8 time, picking up 18 team points for the Warriors. With the top eight finishers in each event awarded points of 10, 8, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2 and 1, Granite City finished with 49½ points.

Madison, another area team competing in the meet, finished with nine points.

WARRIOR head coach Pete Robinson praised Robertson's performance, especially because of the strong winds that runners were forced to battle.

"I've been coming here for about 11 years and it always seems like it's windy," said Robinson. "The wind affects everybody, but especially the distance runners. In every lap, they have to fight the wind."

"That's why I'm so pleased with his (Robertson's) times. It was a real fine double he performed today."

East St. Louis Senior took the top honors Saturday, finishing with 162½ points. Following close behind was East St. Louis Lincoln with 140½ points. Edwardsville finished third with 71, followed by Mount Vernon with 59 and Springfield Southeast with 52½.

LONG JUMP contributed 15 points to Granite City's 49½ final score, finishing first in the high jump with a 6-feet 6-inch jump and fourth in the long jump with a 21-feet 11-inch jump. The Granite City junior was scratched from the triple jump after twisting his leg in one of his three long jump attempts.

"I think he came down and wrenched it sideways," said Robinson. "But he's going to be alright. We just didn't want to take any chances with it being so early in the season."

Granite City also surprised other teams by receiving six points in the high jump with a 6-feet 4-inch jump from senior Paul Smith, his highest mark for the season. The jump gave Smith a third-place finish.

MADISON'S George Leonard finished fifth in the low hurdles with a 41.1 time, while Madison finished sixth in the 400-meter relay with a time of 45.2. The relay team is made up of Russell Porter, Leroy Latham, Avery Blockton and Leonard.

Madison head coach Charlie Steptoe said sprinter Shawn Brown was absent from the meet because of sickness.

"He's our strong sprint man, so I'm happy we did so good in the 400-meter relay without him," said Steptoe. "But we could have used him in some of the individual events."

GRANITE CITY tied for fourth in the pole vault with a 12-foot 6-inch mark from Rich Moore. Scott Cant also added two points to the team score by finishing seventh in the high hurdles with a 15.9 time.

In a team effort, the Warriors finished fifth in the 1600-meter relay with a time of 3:40.6.

"We had a smattering of points up and down the line," said Robinson. "It wasn't just all in long distance or field events. That makes me happy. When you show steady improvement, then you're on the right track."

The Warriors will compete at home in the April 14-15, Cahokia and Thursday against Belleville West and Centralia. On Saturday, the Warriors will travel to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for a recently-arranged invitational meet hosted by Edwardsville High.

The Granite City girls' team, meanwhile, will travel to Belleville West for a dual meet Wednesday and are in the Annie Relays at Centralia on Saturday.

In all, Chester picked up eight firsts — one less than Madison — but managed eight second-place finishes, four more than Madison.

DESPITE the difference in second-place finishes, the Trojans battled the Yellow Jackets down to the wire for the top spot. Looking back over the meet afterwards, Trojan Coach Charlie Steptoe saw two instances

East sweeps double-header from WarriorsBy ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Successful baseball teams invariably have three elements in common — good hitting, fielding and pitching. Take away one of those elements and the winning percentage drops accordingly. Take away two and then all three of those elements and victories are almost non-existent.

Belleville East rudely reminded Granite City High's varsity squad of that successful formula Thursday as the visiting Lancers swept a double-header from the Warriors 5-3 and 10-1.

For the Lancers, it was their first taste of victory this season. Coming into Thursday's double-header, the Lancers were 0-3 after losing three to Chicago-Marist last weekend 4-1, by Jim Sinovic scored Walker to give the Lancers a 2-0 lead after half an inning.

East padded its lead in the third inning when Etzel reached on an error by Warrior shortstop Scott Grote and then scored on Walker's double down the left field line.

Walker stole third base and then scored when the Warriors picked off Dennis Callahan, after reaching on a walk, was trapped between first and second.

Leading 4-0, East's Sinovic tripled down the right field line and then scored when Warrior first baseman Keith Cookley prematurely pulled his foot off the bag.

The Warriors erased the goose egg from the scoreboard in the third inning when Randy Thurman singled, reached second on an error on East's shortstop, third on a fielder's choice and then scored on an errant throw by East's first baseman John McPherson. After that, however, the Lancers were less giving.

LEADING 5-1 after three innings, the Lancers picked up another run in the fourth, two in the fifth, four in the sixth and three more in the seventh and sixth innings in the seventh.

The biggest blow, a three-run homer by East's right fielder John Rapp, smashed a line shot over the 360 foot mark in center field, sending home Callahan, Sinovic and himself.

Earlier, who earlier in the inning reached on a walk off reliever Rodney Sampson, scored on a wild pitch.

IN THEIR half of the inning, the Warriors — a la Sam Tate — saw a some fireworks of their own. Tate, pinch hitting for Sampson, smashed a triple into the right-center field gap scoring Ron Dallas and Thurman.

Tate, however was stranded as Grote grounded out to third.

As if to add insult to injury, East scored twice more in the seventh. Slapping a single off Tim Stanton, the fourth Warrior hurler of the game, McPherson and the Lancers, when Jerry Booker bobbled the ball in right field.

McPherson scored when Etzel singled to right field, but the real blow came when Walker, who already had two doubles and a single in the game, homered to left field.

SINOVIC made it 15-3 when he tripled in Callahan who reached on error.

East's Don Cornell, who pitched full tilt in the sixth, was relieved by sophomore Tim Meehling, picked up the win.

Dan Whitsell, the Warrior starter, was tagged for the loss.

"My slow breaking ball was doing alright for me for awhile," Whitsell said between games of the double-header. "But later, when I got it up over the plate they were hitting it pretty good."

Whitsell modestly put much of the blame for the Warriors' loss in the first game on himself, saying he's not pitching as well as he has in the past, mostly because it's early in the season.

"I don't think there's been enough conditioning, I guess I haven't been pushing myself hard enough," said Whitsell, who's now 0-2 on the season.

WHITSELL, who is used to winning, said that the Warriors' problems now may be resulting from too much effort. With an 0-6 record, he and his teammates may be trying too hard to win.

"Yes, I think it's (not having won yet) affecting us somewhat. What we all need right now is to win one, and win one big," Whitsell said.

Stegemeier concurred, saying he too thought the Warriors were "pressing too hard" for a win.

"I'm not panicking yet," Stegemeier said. "We've got some ball players here, like Danny (Whitsell). He's a competitor and I know he'll make the adjustments to come around."

IN THE second game the Warriors were victims of their own mistakes. Belleville jumped on the board early when lead off batter Etzel reached on an interference call by Warrior catcher Derek McPherson.

Etzel and Walker, who reached on a double to left center field, scored in the first to give the Lancers a 2-0 lead after half an inning.

The Lancers made it 5-0 in the top of the third with timely hitting of Warrior starter Tim Gray. Gray tied the game after the third with

GLAD HANDS. Belleville East's John Rapp (right) receives congratulatory slaps on the hand as he crosses home plate during the sixth inning of Thursday's double-header varsity baseball game with Granite City at Varsity Field. Rapp

The Lancers picked up an unearned run in the fifth when Sinovic reached on an error by second baseman Greg Nemeth. Sinovic stole second, reached third and scored on an errant pickoff attempt at second base which eluded both Nemeth and Cole in center field.

WHATEVER hopes the Warriors had of catching the Lancers were dashed late in the game when East turned a 6-0 ball game into a 10-0 contest in the top of the sixth.

The Lancers scattered four hits in the sixth to score as many runs. East's Bob Eagan singled to start things off and then Jeff Abes reached on a fielders choice which failed to net Eagan or Abes.

Etzel singled to center field to score Eagan from second and then after two pop fly outs, Sinovic tripled to right field to score both Abes and Etzel.

East made it 10-0 when Rapp blasted a double to the left center field gap, easily scoring Sinovic.

THE WARRIORS picked up a consolatory run in their half of the sixth when Cole, who reached on a walk, rounded second and third on Tate's smashed double to right field, and then scored on an errant throw to the infield.

If there was a bright spot for the Warriors in their two-game series with the Lancers, it was the hitting performance of sophomore Steve Davis. Davis who went two for three Thursday in the nightcap picked up two of the Warriors' four hits in the game, a double and a single.

East's Bill Gass, who went four innings for the Lancers, picked up the win while starter Tim Gray was tagged for the loss. Gray was relieved in the fourth inning by Darin Spalding and Eric Gray in the sixth.

Granite City is scheduled to take on Gateway East Conference rival Edwardsville this afternoon in Edwardsville, Thursday. The Warriors will travel to New Athens and Saturday the Warriors are slated to face Washington, a double-header rescheduled from March 31, the Warriors' opener.

Win First Games
Warriors sweep Quincy on Saturday

QUINCY — Thursday night between games of the double-header with Belleville East, Granite City High School pitcher Dan Whitsell said the Warriors needed to "win and win big" if they were going to avoid a fallop, which at that time seem imminent.

The Warriors lost the second game of East Thursday, but they did manage to pull out of its tailspin here Saturday to sweep a double-header from the Blue Devils 4-3 and 11-0.

"We needed these wins," said Warrior Coach Bob Stegemeier. "It's good for the team to get a couple of wins so they know they can win."

AND WIN they did. By coming from behind — the best possible way.

Trailing late in the game, the Warriors came back to tie the game in the seventh inning before eventually winning it in the eighth inning.

In the seventh, John Konkovich led off with a single. Tim Gray pinch ran for Konkovich who stole second and advanced to third when Quincy's infield booted Grote's ground ball.

Sam Tate, who came in to relieve Mark Bowen and later picked up the win for the Warriors, grounded out to first. That ground out, however, advanced Grote to second.

With runners at second and third, Keith Cookley reached to fill the bases and then Terry Rujawitz reached on an error to score Gray and reload the bases.

STILL trailing, Shane Cole came through with the game-tying RBI as he singled to knot the game and send it into extra innings.

In the Warrior eighth, sophomore Steve Davis reached on a ground ball, stole second and got to third on a passed ball.

Konkovich reached on a catcher's interference call and advanced to second on the same passed ball.

Then it was time for heroes. Grote singled to center field to score Davis for what turned out to be the game-winning RBI.

TATE, who allowed no hits or runs, struck out four in the two innings he pitched. Mike Zukas, a sophomore, picked up save in the eighth inning.

"Basically, we got the clutch hits when we needed them," Stegemeier said. "We were helped by some (Quincy) errors, but at least we're making contact now."

But as good the news of increased hitting, the Warriors were also flawless in the field.

Whitsell, the winning pitcher in the second game, made things easy for his teammates as he threw a one-and-hit shutout at the Blue Devils in the second game. In all, Whitsell struck out six and did not allow a walk.

The victories improve the Warrior record to 2-4.

"But the thing that bothers me most is the hitting, because we apparently aren't a very good hitting ball club. We can talk all we want about not getting outside to face live pitching, but we've had just about as much as Belleville East and they sure didn't hurt."

Bob Stegemeier
Warrior baseball coach

5-1 and 14-0. Coming into Thursday's game, the Lancers, who were last year's Southwestern Conference champions with a 19-7 record, were yet to score an earned run.

FOR THE Warriors, also victims of Marist, Thursday's losses were their fifth and sixth in as many games.

Not until Saturday, when they traveled north to Quincy, were the Warriors able to put that successful formula to use and savor a victory (see related story).

In Thursday's first game of the double-header Belleville East scattered 13 hits to whip the Warriors.

Coach Bob Stegemeier's weary group managed just four hits in the 15-3 defeat.

Aided by five Warrior errors, the Lancers neatly picked away at the Warriors, scoring in every inning but the second. The Lancers, however, were not perfect either, as they committed three miscues, all less costly.

COLLECTIVELY, Stegemeier had little reason for optimism after his team's defeats Thursday. In the Warriors' first six games his team's pitching staff had been tagged for 58 hits and 62 runs while the offense has managed just 21 hits and nine runs.

In addition to the troubled Warrior pitching and sagging offense, the Warrior defense has been suspect as well. Through the first six games, the Warriors have committed 16 errors, nine more than their opponents. Nine of those errors, or 56 percent of their errors committed thus far, came in last Thursday's double-header with East.

"WE HAVE pitchers who need to learn how to pitch and not just throw, but in all honesty a little better defense — and we could have been out of a couple of those innings without giving up as many runs."

Stegemeier said directing some of the blame for the losses away from his pitching corps.

Not all of Stegemeier's assessment of the defense was bad, however. In a couple of instances, it was sparkling defense which got him out of some tight spots. Stegemeier referred specifically to a diving catch center fielder Shane Cole made in the fourth inning of the nightcap, which resulted in a double play.

"WITH THE help of some great defense we got out of a couple of innings that we shouldn't have either, like Cole's play and a couple of double plays in the second game."

"But the thing that bothers me most is the hitting, because we apparently aren't a very good hitting ball club," Stegemeier said. "We can talk all we want about not getting outside to face live pitching, but we've had just about as much as Belleville East and they sure didn't hurt."

Belleville Coach Larry Patton had his own reason of success after Thursday's games.

"WE like Granite City, faced some tough pitching against Marist. We didn't do so well against them either," Patton said referring to East inability to score an earned run prior to Thursday's game.

"After that, we got our guys together, set the pitching machine a little faster and hit the ball until we got blisters," Patton said.

It obviously made a difference. Lancer lead off batter Doug Etzel smashed Warrior starting pitcher Danny Whitsell's first pitch of the game into center field for a single.

Three pitches later, Rod Walker slapped a double to center field to score Etzel and the Lancers, without much effort, picked up their first earned run of the season.

A ONE-OUT sacrifice fly to left field

Trojans Meet Red Devils Today Dupo destroys Madison hurlers, 14-4

By CHARLIE SKAER

MADISON—With the score tied 2-2 at the end of the first inning, the Madison Trojan baseball team appeared ready to give the Dupo Tigers a rough battle Thursday.

Dupo put a quick end to Madison's hopes by tagging pitcher Freddie Smith with seven runs in the second inning, going on to win the five-inning game 14-4. The Trojans will get a chance to get on track as they prepare to meet arch rival Venice this afternoon at 4 p.m. at Lee Park.

AGAINST Dupo, Madison's pitchers struggled on the mound, with Smith giving up eight walks in the contest and two wild pitches, while junior Mark Succarotte threw five walks. The brightest pitching performance came from sophomore Patrick Glasper, who faced only four batters in retiring Dupo in the fifth inning.

None of the three pitchers received any help from Madison batters Thursday, as Dupo held the Trojans hitless for the contest. In all, 10 Trojans went down on strikes.

Madison's field performance wasn't much better with three errors, two at third base and one at first.

IN SCORING 14 runs, Dupo connected for five doubles and a single during the lopsided game. Madison's troubles came in the second inning, when Dupo's Roy McLennahan led off with a double to center field. Two walks by Smith loaded the bases for Frank King, who ripped a single to right to score two runs.

Madison's third baseman, Jim Smith, bobbled the ball for an error, loading the bases again. Freddie Smith walked in the third run of the inning, followed by a double to center by Frank George to drive in two more runs and put the game at 7-2. Bill Meagher stepped up and ripped a double through the hole between second and third, making the score 9-2.

MADISON Coach Ron Crader walked to the mound and put in Succarotte, who impressively worked out of the jam by getting three outs after facing only three batters.

But that was the best Succarotte would perform all day, as in the third inning he gave up two doubles and two walks to give Dupo a 12-2 lead. Madison scored their four unearned runs on walks and errors, two runs coming in the second and two in the fourth.

THE TROJANS' closest thing to a hit came in the fourth inning on a hit-and-run play with Freddie Smith at bat and Nathan Young at first. Smith smacked the ball right at the shortstop, who dropped the ball and before throwing late to first. The shortstop was charged with an error.

The loss dropped Madison's record to 0-2, while Dupo improved its record to 2-1. Madison will be playing Dupo again Tuesday, at Dupo.

In Softball Trojanettes use strong hitting, pitching to defeat Roxana, 14-11

By PAULA WISE

MADISON—Combining strong hitting and good pitching, the Madison Trojanette girls' softball team started their season off on the right track Friday by defeating the Roxana Shells 14-11.

"It feels good to win," I love it," said Madison Coach Carol Cole after her team's victory.

"The pitching made the big difference. I'm very, very pleased," Cole said regarding the play of first-year pitcher Kim Goss. "We've never had a pitcher who could go a whole game before. This opens up and lets us keep Stephanie (Walker) and Robyn (Harris) in the field."

TRAINING 9-8 going into the bottom of the sixth inning, the Trojanettes capitalized on three hits along with four walks to take the lead 14-9. Things looked bad for the Trojanettes at the beginning of the inning when lead off batter Kim Goss struck out. But after two Madison walks, Lisa Prothro got things started for the Trojanettes with a three run home run into left center field making the score 11-9.

"I'm really pleased with the way Lisa is hitting," said Coach Cole. "She came through and really busted the ball on that last one."

Two more Madison walks along with a single by Robyn Harris increased the Trojanette lead to 13-9.

AFTER an infield out by Angelette Dandridge, Stephanie Walker launched a run scoring triple into right center field to put the game on ice for Madison.

Although the Shells managed to score two runs in the top of the seventh, the Trojanette lead was too much to overcome.

Madison showed their poise in the first inning when allowing four Roxana runs on just one hit, the Trojanettes rebounded to score five runs in the bottom of the first to take the lead 5-0.

ROXANA tied it up in the top of the third, but again Madison came back in the bottom of the inning to score three runs and regain their lead 8-5.

Roxana recaptured the lead 9-8 by scoring two runs in each of the next two innings while holding Madison scoreless.

The sixth inning proved to be the key for the Trojanettes as they're strong hitting lead them to victory.

"I'm really happy with the way they played," said Coach Carol Cole after her team's come from behind victory. "They're playing relaxed and with more confidence."

Against Mascoutah Warriors drop opener to Mascoutah

MASCOUTAH—Cold weather and a lack of outdoor practices took a toll on the Granite City High School Warrior softball team as it dropped its first game of the season 9-7 to the Mascoutah Indians Thursday night.

Starting pitcher Michelle Staggs went five innings for the Warriors and left the game with a 7-5 lead. Warrior Coach Jim Davis was very pleased with Staggs' first outing.

"Michelle pitched a very good game," said Davis. "She got tired and it was so cold I didn't want to leave her in. I didn't want her to start making bad pitches and get down on herself."

"THIS WEATHER has been really tough on our pitchers. They're giving up too many walks," Davis added.

Trailing 3-1 after the first inning, the Warriors exploded for four runs in the fourth inning to take the lead

5-2. Coach Davis credited the Warrior defense with keeping the Indians close and allowing the Warriors to take the lead.

"We had excellent defense early," said Davis. "Our left fielder, Julie Briggs, threw a girl out at the plate that would have scored and Karen Sykes made a heckuva catch in the third inning with two girls on for the third out."

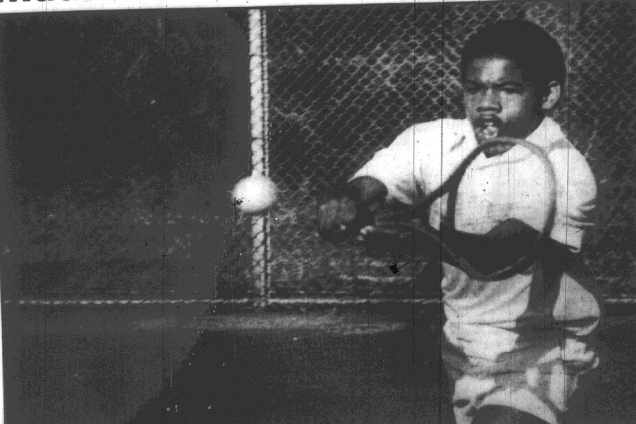

THE WARRIORS continued to hold the lead until Staggs left the game after the fifth. After that it was all down hill for the Warriors.

"Our girls need to learn how to win," said Davis. "They're always looking over their shoulders instead of taking the initiative to win."

Weather permitting, the Warriors will face Edwardsville today at home. The game is scheduled to begin at 4 p.m.

The Warriors will also be competing this Saturday in a tournament at Rosary High School in St. Louis.

Madison Netter

BACKHAND FLIP. Madison High School's third singles tennis player, Lester Buckels, returned this back-handed shot to Waterloo-Gibault's Ricky Becker. Playing the 10-game pro set in a 10-1 format, Buckels dropped the match 10-1. The rest of the Trojans didn't fare much better either, as Gibault won the pairing 4-1. Madison's next pairing is set for April 23 when it hosts East St. Louis Lincoln.

On Thursday Lancers turn back Warrior netters

BELLEVIEWE—Despite the Warrior tennis team's 6-2 loss Thursday afternoon to perennially tough Belleville East, Warrior Coach Dick Harmon had reason to be happy.

"I was very happy with the way we played," Harmon began. "I honestly think we could've beat them if we played the regular four-thirds format."

"They're always a good team and the way we played against them, I think, showed we have a lot of potential."

The "format" Harmon was referring to is the four singles and three doubles tennis format. Most often in this format which is the standard of competition.

BOYD HARMON and East Coach Mike Thompson, however, agreed to play the extended five-four format so nearly all athletes from both teams could compete.

"It's early in the season," Harmon said. "I'm not as concerned about winning as I am about giving everyone the chance to develop their game." In first singles, the Warriors' David Lipe bettered Joe Marinella, 6-3, 7-5, and then Matt Sheridan easily topped Joe's brother, John Marinella, 6-4, 6-2, to capture the second singles title for the Warriors.

In third singles, the Warriors' Rob Lombardi battled back to win the third set against East's Bob Lonsdale, but faltered in the second set. The pairing went 2-6, 7-6 and 3-6 favoring Lonsdale.

THE LANCERS continued their singles winning streak in the fourth and fifth singles competition as Ben Kirchoff zipped by Granite City's Scott Dennis 6-0, 6-1 and the Lancers' Mike Benavise shut out Dave Arne by identical scores of 6-0 in fifth singles.

In first doubles, Sheridan and Lombardi teamed to take a one-set lead over East's Lonsdale and John Marinella before darkness cancelled the pairing. The local netters took a 6-2 first set victory, but were trailing 4-2 in the second set when the pairing was cancelled.

In second, third and fourth doubles, the Lancers' depth became apparent as East handily won the remaining matches.

IN SECOND doubles, Warriors Lipe and Tony Watson dropped a two-set decision to K.C. Brechitz and Joe Marinella, 2-6, 3-6.

Things got somewhat better for the Warriors in third doubles — one game to be exact — but the Lancers still succeeded, winning 6-2, 6-4. In that pairing, Dave Warfield and Jerry Lakin lost to Bob Farmer and Roger Ricketts.

In the final and fourth doubles pairing of the afternoon, Warriors Jeff Rush and Chris Chenevert lost a three-set decision to East's Dave Andes and Mal Wagner 4-6, 6-4 and 3-6.

The loss evened Granite City's record this season at 1-1. The Warriors next pairing is this afternoon as they host Gateway East Conference rival Edwardsville.

Action will begin at 4 p.m. at the Grand Ave. courts, behind GCHS.

just such a meet.

After all teams in the meet consented to Valmeyer's limited participation, Valmeyer's finish in the 100 meter run was just enough again, to edge the Trojans out of at least a share of the first place title.

"IN THE PAST, we've lacked the depth in the distance events," Steptoe said. "But we're improving there. I think with a little more help there and in a couple of other areas we could've won the meet."

After competing in Saturday's Mineral Area Meet at Belleville, East, the Trojans prepare to host Collinsville, Dupo and Breese Central in a quadrangular meet this afternoon. Both a boys' and girls' meet, action begins at 3:30 p.m.
